BULLS DRIVE THE BEARS TO COVER

Reactionary Tendency From Thursday's Decline Is Pronounced and Steady.

MONEY MARKETS PROVE GROWTH IN RESERVES

December Imports of Merchandise Plainly Indicate Decrease in Consumption.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.-Substantial progress was made today in the digestion of speculative profit-taking, which has been accumulating on the stock market for several days past. The sharp reaction which developed yesterday was quite widely extended during the early trading today and afforded such relief from the pressure bearing on the market that the way was opened for a material recovery. The bears were active sellers on the decline, and their active demand to cover helped the rebound. So did the circulation of rumors of Important changes in financial institutions, especially an alleged passing of control of the Equitable Life Assurance society to J. Pierpont Morgan. This rumor, coupled with the asgregate advance in Northern Pacific, was the effective factor in turning the market and driving the bears to rout. Northern Pacific showed resistance to the early depression, in consequence of the same showing in yesterday's decline. The persistence of this strength gave it impressiveness and served to convince the skeptical that some good news was forthcoming regarding the stock, the result being the revival of assertions of an intended extra dividend on the stock, such as were current prior to the declaration of the regular dividend.

Money markets gave striking evidence of the continued growth of banking reserves both here and abroad. The decilining tendency of foreign discounts and the appearance of continental lenders in the London market, driving down the London discount rate, did not prevent a rapid rise in the sterling exchange rate here, and discussion of a possible early gold export movement. Reserves are now accumulating so rapidly on New York that this prospect seems to have no disturbing effect. The banks have made another heavy gain on the week's interior currency movement, receipts and balances from the interior baving reached apparently the neighborhood of $8,000,000, besides about $2,000,000 on sub-treasury operations. That exports of gold at this time would hinge on money market consideration rather than on merchandise accounts against the United States is indicated by the foreign trade statement for December as showing an excess value of exports of tion which developed yesterday was quite exports of $114.830.656, which is more than twice as great as in December of 1906.

December gold net imports amounted to $43.444.088, following the $63.000,000 brought in during November. There has been an abrupt falling off in value of December imports of merchandise to $22,-288,771, compared with $110.943.000 in November, and $134,350,000 in December of 1906, making a striking exhibit of the country's reduced consumption as an effort of the financial crisis. December exports on the other hand have risen several million dollars over even the November record, to an absolute record for any one month of $207.179,460. Therefore The outward movement of grain and cotton has conduced largely to this result. The violent early decline in prices centred largely in the metal industrials. Amalgamated Copper and American Smelting being special targets of attack, for reasons obvious in the depressed condition of the mining industries. New York Central was also pressed for sales sharply, the long account in the stock having been considerably extended in the buying following the sale of equipment notes. The selling of Amalgamated Copper was accomplished by comparisons of the relatively high price of the stock now and when it was on a 2 per cent annual dividend basis before. The extent of the rotranchment plans outlined in reports concerning some of the great railroad systems was a weight on sentiment. The late recovery was well maintained and last prices were near the best.

Bonds were heavy. Total sales, par value, $2,350,000.

OF MARKET DISPLAY

Tin and Copper Lower Abroad; Confirmation of Reports Re- Salmon, Halibut and Lobsters Came in for Big Demand.

Things were booming on market row Friday and fish was in demand. Prices on the vertebrates seldom vary at any season of the year. Salmon and halfout came in for the biggest demand, and lobsters were not slighted.

The fruit stands continue to display the same great variety of fruit, with the emphasis on oranges, which, in spite of the high prices, continue to be good sellers. Bananas afford the least choice of any of the fruit displayed and the prices are only cut when the fruit is not in demand.

Apples, at a great variation in prices, according to the quality of the fruit, constitutes an important item on market row at this season of the year.

Bradstreet's Review.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say.

A further easing in the financial situation and very general reports of improvement in collections are the leading features this week. In trade lines coider weather and snow have helped retail distribution somewhat, but price reduction sales are generally credited with responsibility for whatever expansion has been shown in that branch as a whole. Wholesale dealers and jobbers report sentiment improved, collections benefited by the return to normal in domestic money markets, but trade demands are still below the normal and in some sections a late and small spring trade is predicted. Bradstreet's Review.

Dun's Trade Review.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17-R. G. Dun & Co's, Weekly Review of Trade tomorrow vill say: Progress is slow, but each week brings a little improvement, and confidence in the future grows more rapidly than curthe future grows more rapidly than current transactions. The best feature is the broader market for commercial paper. Loans in mercantile channels are now negotiated freely at little more than the normal rate, facilitating proposed undertakings and making collections more prompt. Buyers are coming into the leading markets in large numbers, which should soon increase transactions unless prices cannot be adjusted. Manufacturers increase productions gradually, con-should soon increase transactions unless prices cannot be adjusted. Manufacturers increase productions gradually, conservatism being general, and many industries are not operating more than 50 per cent of their full capacity. Readjustment of wages is still contemplated by many producers before machinery will be started.

Several more steel plants have resumed, and others will start up next week, but production will continue much reduced until orders come forward with greater freedom. Blast furnaces are slow to resume and a meeting will be held next week to determine upon the wage scale. Prices have declined to an extent that necessitates plans for lowering costs of production. A fair tonnage was taken by manufacturers of cast iron pipe, but concessions in prices are asked by all buyers.
